Risks and rules

The risks

Time on the water has risks, including:

- Drowning
- Capsizing, falling off or being thrown from a kayak, board, boat or jet ski
- Cold water shock and hypothermia, even on a warm day
- Collisions with boats, docks, rocks, swimmers and things under the surface
- Wind, waves, currents, tides and storms that change quickly
- Injuries from paddles, propellers and engines
- Sunburn, heat and dehydration

I understand these risks, and others no one can foresee, and that some remain even when the staff and other guests take care. I choose to take part.

Rules on the water

- Wear the life jacket we fit you with, fastened, the whole time you're on the water.
- Stay inside the area the staff showed you on the map.
- Come back by your return time, or sooner if the weather turns.
- No alcohol or drugs before or during your rental.
- Keep to the posted number of people and weight for each craft.
- Jet skis and boats: keep the safety lanyard attached and stay clear of swimmers.

I'll follow these rules and every instruction from the staff. The staff may stop me or ask me to leave if I don't.

Rental equipment

I'll return the equipment on time and in the condition I got it. I'm responsible for loss or damage from misuse.

Release

To the extent the law allows, I release the business, its owners and its staff from claims for injury, illness or damage that come from the inherent risks of this activity. This release doesn't cover anything the law doesn't let me give up.

Emergency care

If I'm hurt or become ill, the staff may give first aid and call emergency services. I'm responsible for the cost of any care I receive.
